Introduction:

Proposed Bylaw 2016-21 is a Land Use Bylaw amendment to redistrict approximately 247.22 ha (610.92 ac) of land from the CR – Country Residential District to the PC – Conservation District. The subject lands are identified as:

- NW 14-51-26-W4M
- NE 14-51-26-W4M
- SE 14-51-26-W4M
- SW 14-51-26-W4M

Facts (Background Information):Property History

The Nature Conservancy of Canada (NCC) has successfully completed the purchase of a section of land which has become known as Bunchberry Meadows. The intention of NCC is to protect these lands and to provide the lands for year round public recreation access and for educational opportunities. The NCC issued a Request for Proposal (RFP) which closed on October 7, 2016 for the design and build of public access, nature interpretation, and other supporting infrastructure for the Bunchberry Meadows Conservation Project. The existing trails on the subject property will be considered in the NCC's planning for the Bunchberry Meadows Project. The NCC is looking to partner with the County in the ongoing maintenance of some onsite infrastructure including washroom facilities with holding tanks, garbage cans and snow removal. The NCC is prepared to provide additional information and/or respond to questions regarding the Bunchberry Meadows project at the Public Hearing.

Area Structure Plan

This application falls within the boundaries of the Woodbend-Graminia Area Structure Plan Bylaw 3-84, and is not subject to any subdivision plans. The majority of Section 14-51-26-W4M is shown as containing wetlands and lands suitable for open space on the Open Space Concept Map. The NCC has provided some preliminary concept plans provided within the RFP document. The NCC and the successful RFP tender firm will be completing a formal development plan for the anticipated public access and recreational uses.

There has been no formal public engagement undertaken specific to the redistricting application; however, the NCC launched a media campaign in the spring of 2015 and held an open house at the Blackhawk Golf Course in Devon in May 2015. In addition, the NCC has come before Council with an update on the project and Council indicated the County's commitment to partner with the NCC for the ongoing maintenance of onsite infrastructure and facilities. The NCC has reported that the project has been well supported by the community with primary concerns around the impacts of public access on the site.

The proposed amendment application is consistent with Section 6 (Environmental Management) and Map 5 (Environmentally Significant Areas) of the County's MDP. The subject lands are identified on Map 5 as a locally significant environmental area and will be protected as such.
